Safety First!

Baby Safe Feeder was invented by a father who almost lost his son due to choking on a teething biscuit, even though both parents were sitting next to him at the table.

To soothe baby's gums when teething, put in frozen grapes, frozen chunks of banana, cold raw carrot, etc. Or, freeze fruit juice in an ice cube tray and put that in the Safe Feeder. As the baby gets older you can put in meat, vegetables, teething biscuits, etc. If you are in a restaurant, you can give some of your food to baby in the Safe Feeder.

The Safe Feeder has also been recommended and used by many doctors and speech therapists for patients who have disabilities associated with speech, chewing, or swallowing (Down Syndrome, Cerebral Palsy, stroke victims of all ages, and the elderly who have become malnourished due to the inability to chew and swallow).
